Damage $7½ Million; To Resume Work Soon

PEKIN, Ill. (AP)—Bulldozers lunged at heaps of smoldering debris today in a rush job to get the fire-scarred American Distilling Co. plant cleaned up for near full-scale resumption of whisky making Monday.

A spectacular two-day fire that killed six persons, injured 33 and caused more than $7,500,000 damage was brought under control last night.

The searing blue flame ate up from 90,000 to 110,000 barrels of aging whisky—enough liquor to fill more than 22 million ordinary fifth gallon whisky bottles or a half billion standard one-ounce bar shot glasses.

High Cost In Taxes

This cost Uncle Sam at least $47,250,000 in potential alcohol tax collections—whisky being taxed at the rate of $10.50 a gallon as it is withdrawn from bonded warehouses.

However, Russell R. Brown of Greenwich, Conn., company president who hurried to the scene, said the fire loss to his firm was fully covered by insurance.

He announced plans to have production operations up to almost full scale by Monday. The fires and explosions yesterday destroyed 4 and damaged 3 of the distillery's 15 buildings, but the distillery units, power plant and bottling facilities were spared.

To Employ 600

This will mean employment again for some 600 distillery workers who had been laid off July 1.

A providential wind shift played a big part in saving the 25 million dollar distillery from possible complete destruction.

The dead, all distillery employees of Pekin, were identified as Lawrence Neavear, 39; Marion Garber, 53; Edward Winkler, 47; Richard Earnmoed, 32; William Kohler, 35, and James Dancy, 40.

The fire started early Wednesday morning, apparently from a bolt of lightning during a thunderstorm. It was not pronounced fully under control until 42 hours later, at 8 p.m., Thursday.

Stolen Car Recovered North Of Damascus

A slightly damaged car was returned Thursday to the Parker Chevrolet Co. in Salem after it was stolen from the company's lot and damaged in a mishap about midnight Wednesday.

Mahoning County Deputy Sheriff William Campbell found the 1951 model car abandoned on the Smith-Goshen Road north of Damascus at midnight Wednesday. He said the car had been driven off the road, striking a tree.

The car was stolen early Wednesday evening by an unknown party who crossed ignition wires to start the vehicle.

46 Accusations Put at Senator To Be Probed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators picked to handle a new investigation into the conduct of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) indicated today a general belief their hearings should be open to the public, but with some restraints to avoid a "vaudeville show" atmosphere.

In advance of a planned second meeting to discuss plans, most of the six members of the special committee said for the record or in private talks they did not want a repetition of the televised McCarthy-Army hearings.

The subcommittee which conducted those 36 days of stormy sessions planned a meeting of its own today to seek agreement on machinery for writing a report.

McCarthy Continues Probe
And McCarthy himself went ahead with his own investigation of what he terms widespread Communist infiltration of defense plants.

McCarthy announced the investigations subcommittee he heads would question witnesses from the Boston area in a resumption of that probe today. He declined to say in advance who the witnesses would be or what plants were involved.

The six senators drafted to make the new study of McCarthy's behavior, including his controversial Red-hunting methods, were named yesterday by Vice President Nixon. Members had been recommended by the Republican and Democratic Policy Committees of the Senate.

Study Censure Move

The special committee was created Monday night by a Senate resolution instructing it "to act and to make a report" on a move to censure McCarthy made by Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) and on 46 accusations, some of them overlapping, aimed at the Wisconsin senator by Flanders and Sens. Fulbright (D-Ark.) and Morse (Ind-Ore).

The committee includes Sens. Watkins (Utah), Case (SD) and Carlson (Kan.), all Republicans, and Edwin C. Johnson (Colo.), Stennis (Miss.) and Ervin (NC), Democrats.

Two Youths Arrested After Tavern Holdup

Two Youngstown youths were arrested by state highway patrolmen of the Canfield post within two hours after they allegedly had committed a $20 tavern holdup in Trumbull County, just east of Mineral Ridge.

The youths fled on foot after their car overturned on the County Line Road following the holdup at Ez-zo's Tavern at 2:30 p.m. Patrolmen arrested the pair on a county road south of County Line Road shortly afterward.

John Sprankle, 18, one of the youths involved, is being held in Trumbull County Jail in Warren. The other, a 16-year-old boy, was cited to Mahoning County Juvenile Court.

Rhodes Attacks Lausche Record To Meet Governor In Cleveland Debate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Auditor James A. Rhodes, his campaign for governor officially in full swing, has agreed to meet Gov. Frank J. Lausche on the same platform in a Cleveland debate Oct. 19.

Rhodes announced that he had accepted an invitation to speak with Lausche at the Greater Cleveland Knights of Columbus luncheon club, preceded his first major campaign address last night at Coalition.

In his speech, Rhodes said Lausche's record was one "of deceit, political maneuvering and a brazen grasp for personal power. It is a record of many, many promises and in one respect it is 100 per cent. He hasn't kept one."

Mental Health Promises

Lausche promised that, as governor, one of his first acts would be to initiate a program of adequate housing for the mentally ill, Rhodes said. He added:

"After four terms in office even more deplorable conditions exist in Ohio's ramshackle mental institutions. Despite the fact that Lausche has been given more money by the Legislature than he asked for, inmates today must sleep in the halls, basements, closets and under the beds."

"I will toss out the 'snakepit' philosophy that dominates present administration of Ohio mental institutions and make full use of modern new structures which now stand idle. . . . Emphasis will be placed on rehabilitation. Use of physical restraints will be minimized, as recommended by the American Psychiatric Assn."

Start of State St. Paving Job Is Uncertain

Painesville Firm Low Bidder; Curb Services To Be Reset

Neither local nor state officials know the probable date of the start of the paving work on downtown State St.

The O'Dell Construction Co. of Painesville, low bidder on the project, was to be officially awarded the contract today by the State Highway Department for the paving by concrete of the three-block section between Ellsworth and Lincoln avenues.

The Painesville firm, submitting a low bid of $67,474.10 last Tuesday, was one of four companies bidding on the job. The state's estimate was $74,450.

Other Bids Listed

Other bidders were George B. and Cletus Patterson Co. of Wellsville, $75,458.40; Earl H. Newell of Columbiana, $77,464.80, and the Elmer Vogt Construction Co. of Massillon, $81,221.52.

The job of resurfacing Rt. 164 south of Columbiana Village has been let to the Kelly-Myer Co. of Youngstown on a low bid of $56,578.85, the state highway department announced today.

The state's estimate on the Columbiana project was $57,100.

The winner of the Republican senatorial primary was Ray H. Jenkins, the Army-McCarthy hearing special counsel who didn't seek the nomination and said he wouldn't run if he got it.

The figures from 2,084 of the state's 2,591 precincts tell the Democratic primary story:

Senate: Kefauver 326,424; Rep. Pat Sutton 137,386.

Governor: Clement 368,917; former Gov. Gordon Browning 151,824.

Won Most Primaries
Kefauver, who won most of the Democratic primaries and lost in the convention in the 1952 presidential derby, said yesterday's victory over Sutton was a triumph over isolationism.

Sutton, who conducted a fast-paced helicopter campaign between marathon radio-television broadcasts, conceded shortly before midnight, saying he held "no ill will or malice."

Memphis political boss E. H. Crump, who sustained his first big political defeat in 1948 when Kefauver first was elected to the Senate, maintained a neutral stand in the Senate race this year, although

The curbing will be moved back two feet on either side between Ellsworth and Lincoln to provide for a 40-foot roadway as required by the state highway department. Some protests have been heard from merchants over the loss of sidewalk frontage.

Kefauver Rolls Up Big Majority

Clement Is Victor In Governor Race

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver kept his position as a presidential possibility yesterday as he and Gov. Frank Clement won assured re-election by crushing majorities in Tennessee's Democratic primary.

The winner of the Republican senatorial primary was Ray H. Jenkins, the Army-McCarthy hearing special counsel who didn't seek the nomination and said he wouldn't run if he got it.

Statement By Mayor Offers No New Clues

Tests Show Murderer Ran All Over House After Killing Woman

CLEVELAND (AP)—Police said today a new statement by Mayor J. Spencer Houk of suburban Bay Village has added considerably to details about Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard's extra-marital love life.

The statement, however, contributed nothing toward a solution of the hack-slaying of the osteopath's 31-year-old wife, Marilyn. Deputy Inspector James E. McArthur reported.

McArthur also said complete laboratory and scientific tests of the Sheppard home in the prosperous Bay Village suburb indicate "somebody ran around after the murder like a chicken with his head cut off."

Trail Of Blood Spots
The trail of blood spots show the person apparently was "undecided what to do with the bloody clothing, the weapon and himself," the inspector added.

He said the evidence is at variance with Dr. Sheppard's story that the killer made a hasty exit from the house after the crime was committed.

The statement by Mayor Houk, a close friend of Dr. Sheppard, revealed some of the social and nocturnal activities of a "gay set" to which the 30-year-old osteopath and his wife belonged, McArthur reported.

Added New Names
Although details were not revealed, Houk's story was believed to have added new names to the list of five "other" women previously reported in Dr. Sheppard's life.

Attorneys for the physician went into court today in an effort to bar acting Mayor Gershom M. Barber of Bay Village from arraigning him on a first-degree murder charge tomorrow.

They contend Barber does not have the legal authority to conduct the hearing. Earlier this week, Common Pleas Judge Frank J. Merrick upheld the right of Barber to issue the murder warrant in the case.

Cleanup Goes On In Phenix City

Gambling, Vice Being Put Out Of Business

PHENIX CITY, Ala. (AP) — The gunman who murdered crime-fighter Albert L. Patterson on the fateful night of June 18 is still a wanted fugitive despite seven weeks of the greatest manhunt in Alabama history.

But the three shots fired into Patterson's body have exploded again and again in an unrelenting war on vice and racketeering that has made this storied city of sin a virtual ghost town.

The brightly lighted cafes and honky-tonks where carefree soldiers from nearby Ft. Benning, Ga., spent millions of dollars a year on gambling, prostitution and other lurid frolics have been closed outright or put on short rations.

Their liquor and beer licenses have been suspended. Many of the gaudy night spots have been padlocked by raiding National Guardsmen who found hundreds of slot machines, lottery tickets, crooked dice, and telltale hypodermic needles and vials which gave evidence of narcotics traffic.

The troops have taken over all law enforcement functions in Phenix City and most of Russell County, stripping the civilian police of even the right to carry guns. That was done under an unprecedented limited martial law proclaimed by Gov. Gordon Persons.

Except for police duties, however, other civilian offices—including the courts—were left untouched by military rule.

In almost daily arrests, the steel-helmeted troops and reinforced squads of state highway patrolmen have brought more than 50 persons into custody, including two public officials, two civilian deputy sheriffs and one of the reputed vice lords.

Other gambling big shots have been called in for questioning.

Phenix City's Mayor Elmer Reese was arrested on charges of wilful neglect of duty because of the gambling which went on.

Circuit Solicitor Arch Ferrell, the county's ousted criminal prosecutor, was jailed for drunkenness, fined $100 for drunk driving and his driver's license suspended.

Ferrell, who already had been relieved of duty, also is under indictment along with two others on charges of vote manipulation in an effort to defeat the anti-vice crusading Patterson in the June 1 Democratic primary runoff election.

Patterson, promising to rid Phenix City of organized vice and lawlessness, was nominated for attorney general of Alabama but was assassinated before he could take office.

Indicted with Ferrell were the state's highest legal officer, Atty. Gen. Si Garrett, and Lamar Reid, chairman of the Jefferson County (Birmingham) Democratic Executive Committee, who resigned following the indictment.

Garrett recently was seriously injured in a car wreck and now is in a Waynesboro, Miss., hospital with a broken neck.

Gambling czar Godwin Davis Sr., another of those arrested in the mushrooming vice cleanup in Phenix City, spent six days in jail before he could raise bond of $22,000 on 44 gambling charges. His son, Godwin Jr., picked up on similar charges, made his bond after 72 hours.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Albert Fuller, whose flair for wide-brimmed hats and ornate pistols made him almost a legendary figure in Phenix City, was charged with violating Alabama's election laws by unlawfully influencing voters in the recent primary.

Another deputy, Aaron Smith, was arrested later on similar charges.

The grand jury which indicted Ferrell, Garrett and Reid on the vote tampering charges in Birm-

SMILING VOTER — Former President Harry S. Truman

wears a broad smile as he emerges from the voting booth in Independence, Mo., after casting his ballot in Missouri's primary election on one of Jackson County's new voting machines in the 7th precinct of Blue Township. This was the first time the former chief executive had been photographed since his recent illness following emergency removal of his gall bladder and appendix.

ingham said in its final report that the campaign of Patterson's runoff opponent, Lee Porter of Gadsden, was "financed almost in its entirety by the Phenix City racketeers."

That conclusion came after the elder Davis told the jurors he and his pals gave Porter $22,600.

Patterson had planned to appear before the grand jury to tell what he knew but was slain a few hours after he made that known.

An emergency grand jury has been called back into session at Phenix City Monday to start hearing testimony about the rackets which flourished before Patterson's death, and to prosecute the killer if he is found.

The jury was empaneled after Gov. Persons forced the resignations of the old Jury Commission and a special judge threw out the entire jury box so fresh names would be available.

Elimination Contest Set For Tractor Rodeo

LISBON — Charles Gause of RD, Hanoverton, advisor of the Columbiana County 4-H Tractor Maintenance Club, reports 28 boys are entered in the tractor rodeo scheduled for Aug. 27 at the fairgrounds.

Eliminations will be held Aug. 14 at 1 p.m. at the grandstand, Gause said.

Plans were completed at a meeting of 25 members Wednesday night at Joe Hill's Machine Shop near Lisbon.

Six boys will be chosen from the entrants. They will compete for the title of best tractor and machinery manipulator at the county fair, Aug. 24-28.

First prize will be $25; second, $10; and third, $5. Medals also will be awarded.

The boys voted to expand their farm machinery classes to more complicated equipment next year.

Lisbon To Readvertise For Sewage Plant Bids

LISBON — Starting afresh to find more reasonable bids on the proposed sewage treatment plant, Council plans to open bids Sept. 10, according to Village Solicitor Charles Pike.

Rejecting a proposal by Mayor Wilbur Warren that present bids be accepted, Council will advertise for bids tentatively on Aug. 13, Pike said.

Six bids were refused because they were too high over estimates calculated by the consulting engineers, Stillson and Associates of Columbus. The actual bids for both the plant and the sewer exceeded estimates by a total of about $100,000.

SUE FOR $400,000

CLEVELAND 34 — A $400,000 damage suit has been filed by a Cleveland couple who said they were injured in the West Side street explosion last Sept. 10. In their suit, Thomas and Betty Danko charged the explosion was caused by inflammable liquids which were discharged into the sewers. Named as defendants were the cities of Cleveland and Lakewood, which allegedly failed to ventilate and maintain regular inspection of the sewers, the Glidden Co., Sun Oil Co. and Shell Oil Co. The Dankos said they suffered bruises and cuts when their automobile was blown off the ground in the blast.

Boys Find Treasure In Silver On Lot

NEWARK, N. J. (AP) — Eight boys found a treasure trove in a vacant lot and had a gay time until police stepped in.

Like a youthful dream come true, the youngsters stumbled on several bags of silver and promptly began to toss money around, dashing to an amusement park and to the resort town of Asbury Park.

One suspicious mother yesterday said her boy seemed to have an unlimited supply of quarters.

Detectives talked to the boys, who led them to four bags of silver, containing $981.65, stored between a bees' nest and a wasps' nest "to keep thieves away."

Police said the find apparently was part of $3,900 which disappeared from a Trenton, N.J., vending machine firm along with one of the firm's employees.

Names and ages of the boys were not disclosed. Nor did police say how much they spent.

How The New Tax Laws Affect You

Elderly Retired Persons Get Bigger Income Tax Deductions

By CHARLES F. BARRETT

WASHINGTON (AP)—Most elderly retired persons probably won't have to pay any federal income tax from now on.

That is one of the far-reaching effects of the giant tax revision bill just passed by Congress. Some of its biggest benefits will go to retired persons.

When you're 65 or over, the law already permits you to exempt $1,200 of your income from taxes. If you're married and file a joint return, the exemption is $2,400.

From now on, in many cases, retired persons will be permitted in effect to deduct an additional $1,200 of retirement income. That would be a tax cut of $240. If both husband and wife have retirement income, they can get an additional $2,400 deduction, or a $480 tax cut.

Retirement income is defined as income from pensions, annuities, interest, rent and dividends.

With other standard deductions, the new provisions boil down to this:

If you and your wife both have retirement income, you can get up to $5,333 a year without paying taxes; if only one of you has income, you can get $4,000 tax free; if you're a retired single person, you can get $2,666 without paying any tax.

Experts believe these cutoff figures will cover most retired persons, except a few in upper income brackets.

They estimate the new bill will give tax cuts to almost two million taxpayers, totaling about 141 million dollars the first year. The number to benefit, and the revenue reduction, will increase later as millions more retire.

Technically, the new provision works like this, if you qualify:

You figure your tax bill just as in the past, taking all regular exemptions and deductions. Then you apply the first bracket tax rate (now 20 per cent) to your retirement income, up to $1,200. Next you subtract that figure, say $240, directly from the tax payment you otherwise would make.

But there's one important limitation. If you get income that is already tax free—as from social security, railroad retirement, military or veterans' pensions—you must subtract this from your $1,200 retirement income before you figure your tax credit. In other words, you can't exclude the same income twice. For example, if you get $700 a year from social security, you could count only $500 of other retirement income; and you would get a new tax cut of only $100. However, you don't have to subtract military or veterans' disability payments from your retirement income.

And there are four important requirements to meet before you qualify for the new benefit.

First, most persons must be 65 or over. But if you retire under a public pension system—if you're a retired schoolteacher, policeman or other federal, state or local government worker—you can subtract 20 per cent of your income from that system even before you are 65. But you can't count other retirement income until you are 65 or over.

Second, to be counted as a retired person and get the full benefit, you must make $900 or less from work. Any earned income above $900 must be subtracted from your $1,200 retirement income.

come before figuring your tax credit. So if you make $2,100 or more from work, you are not considered to have retired and you get no benefit. But at age 75 or over, you can get the full benefit regardless of your earnings.

Third, to qualify, you also must have made as much as $600 a year in earned income, for any 10 years before you retire. The theory is that the benefit should go only to persons retiring from active work. But note that you don't have to earn $600 for the 10 years immediately before your retirement. You can count any 10 years—even those long before you retire—and they don't have to be consecutive. A widow can qualify under this so long as her husband did.

Fourth, you can't get this benefit if you use the short-form tax return, under which you merely list your income and exemptions and take your tax from the table on the back of the return. Only taxpayers with $5,000 or less income may use this return.

Bad Check Artist Passes $24,000

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Portsmouth police had in custody today a 37-year-old Geneva, Ohio, man they said had passed almost $24,000 in worthless checks in a year.

Sgt. William Allen and Detective Harold Tinsley said the man, James Girdley, had admitted stealing a check-protecting machine and a large number of checks in Geneva last May 4. The officers also said Girdley confessed stealing checks from firms in Barberton, Chicago and Detroit.

Girdley was arrested last night when a waitress in a bar recognized his picture on a police bulletin pasted near the cash register as he tried to cash what he said was a pay roll check.

The officers said Girdley told them he had passed worthless checks within the last year in Cleveland, Akron, Geneva, Barberton, Portsmouth, Detroit and North Wilkesboro, N. C.

The police found two check-protecting machines, a typewriter and several bundles of blank checks in Girdley's car, they said.

No charges had been placed against Girdley up to noon today, but FBI officers who were aiding in the questioning said he probably would be charged with interstate transportation of stolen goods.

Quick Poison Ivy Cure Now Undergoing Tests

CINCINNATI (AP)—A new lotion to stop itching from poison ivy in a few hours is being tested with good results at the University of Cincinnati College of Medicine.

Dr. Leon Goldman, head of the dermatology department, said based on experiments even severe cases can be cleared up within a few days instead of the two weeks generally needed.

Treatment, however, should begin as soon as possible after contact for quick results, he told a newsmen.

"When the poison ivy gets bad, internal treatments also are needed," Dr. Goldman said.

Police Chief Fined For Traffic Violation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—George W. Scholer was named Columbus chief of police a few weeks ago. Two weeks later his automobile and that of a patrolman crashed at an intersection.

The chief was arrested for failing to yield the right-of-way. The patrolman was not held. Judge Charles R. Petree found the chief guilty in traffic court yesterday and fined Scholer $10 and costs.

The chief paid it, then congratulated the officers who had investigated the case on their fair and unbiased reports.

Weak Spring Enough To Feed Farm Pond

Hogs, cattle and sheep on the farms of Hugh Jack and Ralph Falconer of Wellsville RD 1, have refreshed themselves for the past eight years with water from a cooperative pond which straddles their dividing line.

Herman Reuter of Lisbon, work conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service, said this quarter-acre pond illustrates that a large watershed is not necessary to maintain a good supply of water. "A continuous trickle from a weak spring is all that feeds the pond," Reuter said.

"A live stream is a very undesirable and expensive location for a pond," the conservationist stated. He said a satisfactory ratio is 20 acres of watershed to an acre of pond surface.

"Too many ponds are constructed in watersheds with large amounts of run-off during spring rains," Reuter believes. Water from the Jack-Falconer enterprise is piped into their barns to about 20 head of cattle, 60 sheep and 40 hogs.

Reuter warned prospective pond builders to avoid locating the pond over layers of sand, gravel or bedrock. "Clay or silty clay loam is the most desirable material for constructing the dam or fill."

Kentucky To Select Nominees Saturday

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Voters of this border state tomorrow will nominate 10 congressional candidates in a quiet prelude to a keen U.S. senatorial race expected to match names—Cooper and Barkley—regarded by some Kentuckians as having political magic.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper, Somerset Republican seeking reelection and former Vice President Alben W. Barkley, Paducah Democrat running to regain the senatorial post he had before being elected "Veep" in 1948, are without strong opposition in their primaries. Each is backed by his state party organization.

The 76-year-old Barkley and 52-year-old Cooper have been speaking for some time—although doing little formal campaigning—and leaders of both parties anticipate one of the most heated races in Kentucky history between the pair before the Nov. 2 general election.

In District primaries tomorrow, eight nominees for the U.S. House of Representatives also will be picked.

Buys Slot Machine For Wife, Faces Jail Term

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Jack Kreske, owner of a Columbus plumbing supply firm told police it was all his wife's fault.

"Every time we'd go out, she'd play the slot machines. Finally, I said, 'Look, honey, I'll buy you one.'"

Kreske said he bought an "old, broken down machine" for her, figuring we could fix it up and she could play it. She's the only one that's put a nickle in it since and it's been in our basement all the time."

Police embarked on an anti-pin ball drive, confiscated the machine from the recreation room of Kreske's home yesterday. Now he faces a $50 to $200 fine and six months in the workhouse for possession of the one-armed bandit.

Sunset For Colonialism

The chances are the reader never heard of Pondicherry and Karikal, port cities in India. The chances are now there will be no occasion for readers ever to hear of them, because France has let it be known they will be turned back to India. They were the last remnants of French colonialism in India.

The main remnant of French colonialism in Asia as a whole was Indochina which France tried to hold on to unwisely and not well. It could have profited by the example of Great Britain, which knew when to get out of India and more recently has known when to get out of Suez. While there are some who interpret every retreat from colonialism as a surrender to the Kemlin, whose trouble-makers undoubtedly have made the most of native resentment of colonialism, there is another interpretation that makes more sense. There is a time to withdraw from an indefensible position.

The sun has set on the British empire. It now shines on the British commonwealth. Colonialism is through. The "white man's burden" has been lifted from his shoulders even though he has not given it up without a struggle. The source of a deep embarrassment between the United States and its European allies is being rapidly eliminated.

The United States has been committed in its declarations of policy throughout the 20th century to anti-colonialism. Its views on self-determination are known throughout the world. But the conflict between its views and the views of its colony-holding allies has been obvious, and it has been embarrassing. To the extent that colonialism is being eliminated as a cause of friction in the world, the prestige of the United States as the leader of the freedom bloc is being increased.

Eventually, there will be only one nation opposed to the right of self-determination for all people—the Soviet Union, whose despotic rulers seek to exploit the entire world.

Less Than Altogether

The connection between the evangelist making an issue of organized nudism in Battle Creek, Mich., and a U.S. Army order against bad taste in summer clothing worn by G.I. wives and daughters in Germany is so obvious that even an editorial writer hesitates to pounce on it.

The great merit of clothing lies in its ability to make us look somewhat better than we would be if there were no seamstresses and tailors. More power to those who prefer to cavort in the altogether, but most of us are better off when we do our cavorting in the less than altogether.

But this, like the decision to cavort at all, is a matter of judgment. At one extreme are nudists, who wear nothing. At the other are eccentrics, who sometimes appear among us on a summer day wearing overcoats and fur hats. Between the extremes are all the rest of us, who incline this way or that way, depending on the temperature and our inclinations.

Among the wives and daughters of U.S. military personnel in Germany are some who have inclined too far toward nudism. Not all of them, it may be deduced from a specific prohibition against "mature women wearing blue jeans," have been well advised. Which brings this observation back to the beginning, where every well constructed editorial should end: The great merit of clothing lies in its ability to make us look better than we would look otherwise—unless otherwise we happen to be a pleasing eye-ful. Not many of us can qualify as eye-fuls.

The Case Of Mrs. Moss

The case of Mrs. Annie Lee Moss, whose name was first brought to public attention when Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy called her as a witness while holding hearings on what he called Communist coddling in the Army, is a puzzling one, indeed.

A wave of protest and denunciation whirled around McCarthy's head for what his opponents described as an unwarranted attack on a loyal government employee.

The Wisconsin senator was castigated for having allegedly made up his mind about Mrs. Moss, who is a Signal Corps worker, before hearing her testimony.

It seems now that her defenders might be guilty of the same thing. The Army has reopened the case "on the basis of information which was not previously available and which has not been satisfactorily resolved by an investigation."

Mrs. Moss was given 30 days to present her case to a security hearing board.

She may be loyal in every respect, but since the Army must have good reason for suspending her a second time, it is quite apparent that her defenders as well as her critics ought to withhold judgment until all the evidence is in.

Unequaled Challenge

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Will Rule Apply Retroactively Against McCarthy

An unprecedented challenge to constitutionalism—and one that can curtail the right of a member of Congress hereafter to express freely and without fear of intimidation his views on public questions—has been projected by the vote of the Senate to create a special committee of six to consider certain charges made by other senators against Sen. McCarthy.

The issue is not whether what the Wisconsin senator has said in his speeches about Gen. Marshall or anyone else was or was not meritorious, but whether the Senate is about to try a United States senator for conduct which it has never heretofore prescribed as a violation of its rules.

The Supreme Court of the United States has set aside as unconstitutional many a law passed by Congress because it did not specify "standards" for the application of the law in question.

What are the "standards" by which the new Senate committee is to judge the conduct of the Wisconsin senator, and can a rule be applied now which refers to acts allegedly committed before the rule was ever adopted?

IF IT BE "ETHICS" that now are to be defined, there is the charge that Sen. McCarthy received a fee for the preparation of a book on housing of veterans, published by a housing company. Sen. Fulbright says the fee was not paid for "comparable service." Then what shall be said of those senators who—as Sen. Knowland pointed out in the debate—have received fees for public speaking in excess of those normally paid?

What of the fact that labor unions, trade associations and corporations having business with the Congress paid out such huge fees to members or Congress?

If it be "unethical" for a senator to accept a fee for writing a book derived from information received from his own committee or from executive agencies of the government, what shall be said of the "ethics" of President Franklin D. Roosevelt who, while he was in the White House, had published for private profit and put a personal copyright on information that belonged to the government of the United States?

Thus, the transcripts of press conferences from 1933 to 1940—in which the newspapermen of America were forbidden to quote in the first person—were published for gain, and the copyright which Roosevelt held has prevented the press from reprinting all those transcripts as a matter of right and it can be done today only with the permission of the book publisher.

ROOSEVELT, in the foreword extended thanks "to the members of the cabinet and heads of other agencies and others who have assisted in the gathering of this

So They Say

Senator McCarthy has developed and used techniques which I have observed in use by the Communists themselves . . . throughout the world.—Chairman Paul G. Hoffman, Studebaker Corp.

The recession—call it whatever you want—is over.—Presidential Economic Adviser Gabriel Hague. I do not deserve this honor, for I have only done my duty.—"Angel of Dien Bien Phu" is honored in U.S.

The Communists have used heroin to spread addiction among UN troops in South Korea and Japan, as evidenced by 2400 arrests of Communist dope peddlers in South Korea and Japan.—Harry J. Anslinger, U. S. commissioner of narcotics.

Love That Snorer

It seems that in prehistoric times, when human beings lived in caves, the man of the "house" had quite a problem protecting his lady from marauders. So he made noises to frighten them away. The louder and more ferocious the noises, the better his defense.

Now we hear from a British doctor that men who snore may be subconsciously performing their old protective function, defending the little woman against troublemakers.

According to the theory, wives ought to look on the old man's snore as a sign of deep affection. It means he cares.

So, madam, the next time you wake up in the middle of the night because he is figuratively ripping the plaster off the walls, don't shake him into weak, silent submission. It's not every girl who can get a man who will blow sweet nothings into her ear all night long.

Thoughts For Today

Thy hands have made me and fashioned me: give me understanding, that I may learn thy commandments.—Psalms 119:73.

Be still, then thou uneasy mortal; know that God is unerringly wise; and be assured that, amidst the greatest multiplicity of beings, He does not overlook thee.—James Hervey.

The News invites letters from readers on all important current subjects. The letters should be brief, not to exceed 200 words and must bear the signature and address of the writer to insure publication. Letters with anonymous signatures will not be published.

material in the various departments of the government and in the executive offices in the White House."

Is that a "standard" for a senator, too? Should any member of Congress receive outside income—from private law practice, for example—while he is in office? There is no rule on this either.

Shall members of Congress accept compensation for articles they write for publication in newspapers or periodicals while, as always, there is under consideration legislation to increase second-class postal rates?

Shall members of Congress vote on any measure affecting any constituent who has contributed substantial sums to his campaign fund? Should he disclose his own investments and disqualify himself from voting on any issue directly or indirectly affecting his personal property?

As for making "classified information" public, what is the rule or standard? Is it a matter for "censure" when one senator makes it public and no violation when another does?

Not long ago a western senator on television told facts about the hydrogen bomb which were supposed to be top secret. Should he have been "censured" for that? If so, where is the rule which says that a member of the door-innate branch of the government is not authorized to use any information which he deems in the public interest?

IT HAS BEEN charged that the Wisconsin senator urged federal employees "to violate their oaths and the law" by encouraging them to give him information which, it has been argued, they should not transmit.

Conceding that a federal employee should be fired for doing it—and maybe if he suspects corruption or treason, he may feel justified in risking his job for the public welfare—is there any rule of conduct by either house of Congress which says the members cannot use in hearings information of any kind which they receive? If so, it hasn't been written yet anywhere in the rules.

The case is parallel to the action of President Roosevelt when he wrote a letter to a committee chairman in the house and urged that the Guffey Coal Act be passed irrespective of any doubts which members might have as to the constitutionality of that bill. Was this asking members of Congress to violate the oaths in which they promised "to support the constitution," and, if not, is it any different conduct from that which is charged against the Wisconsin senator?

ONE OF THE charges now has blown up in the faces of the accusers—the Army has just suspended for the second time Annie Lee Moss; whom Senator McCarthy charged was a Communist, and this time it is stated some new information has been uncovered by the FBI.

Supposing the resolution of "censure" for his having made the charge in the Moss case had passed the Senate when the anti-McCarthy senators were pressing for a vote last week—would they today be revoking their action?

Could they undo the damage done the Wisconsin senator by such a resolution of "censure" impugning his integrity and his fidelity to his duty, as he sees it, in trying to rid the government of Communists?

The select committee of senators can make a report promptly and briefly—namely that it cannot try McCarthy because there are no rules of conduct covering his speeches or alleged attitudes in his committee hearings and that, if there are to be rules, then all members should be subject to them hereafter and not retroactively.

Footnote To The McCarthy-Stevens Hearing

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

Perhaps it is fitting to add a footnote to the McCarthy-Stevens hearings and to say something about Sen. Karl Mundt who bore the heaviest burden of presiding over his colleagues who, by the Senate, are sovereign each in his own right and none needs pay the slightest attention to the chairman if he chooses not to and his manners are such.

Karl Mundt also faced the technical problem that Sen. McCarthy, a principal in the case, acting as counsel for his side, was also a United States senator who could not be deprived of his rights as a United States senator by the committee. Each senator sat not only as a judge and jury but as a prosecuting attorney with rights of examination and cross-examination and with the additional right to make a speech of summation whenever he chose. And many of them did.

The only rule that all agreed upon and lived up to was the 10 minute rule which meant that after a 10 minute period of interrogation or speech-making, a senator would subside until his next turn came around unless he had a point of order to make which some made pointlessly or unless he rose to a matter of personal privilege which often consumed hours.

PRESIDING under such circumstance, with the television grinding away constantly, under the physical heat of klieg lights and the psychological heat engendered not only by mounting ambition but by vindictive hatred, was a very tough job.

Some suggest that Mundt might have banded the gavel more often to shut his colleagues up. It would have been a fruitless exercise.

The task of the presiding officer was to prevent the hearings from going altogether haywire and to keep angry members of the Senate from wither beating up each other verbally, which they did, or physically which they did not.

At times, it was anticipated that one or the other of them might have walked out, but that was not in the plan.

Were the chairman not a voting member of the committee, an outsider, an impartial person, he might have had an easier time of it but Chairman Mundt could not shirk his responsibilities as a committee member and also a part of what was, at first, the Republican majority and in due course became the Republican minority upon the defection of Sen. Charles Potter.

Curiously, I have met Sen. Potter only once and that was in the apartment of G. David Schine's parents at the Waldorf-Astoria.

IN ALL THESE circumstances, it seems to me that Karl Mundt did a remarkably good job and if his reputation as a senator and his stature in his party have been enhanced, he is deserving.

I can say something of the difficulties involved in such a task because I was one of those called into executive session to testify as to what I know about this affair. I was present at the luncheon at the Merchants Club in New York on November 17 as a guest. I assume, of Secretary of the Army Stevens who paid the bill; I had had a private talk with Secretary of the Army Stevens in his office on November 24; I had had some telephone conversations with Army counsel John Adams, which were not monitored and concerning all but one, I have no recollection whatsoever. That one, I remember clearly because it occurred just before all the passions broke loose, as I warned they would.

These occurrences made little impression on me at the time; seemed not too important; much of the conversation was gay banter.

IT WOULD NEVER have occurred to me to make a note of them and I did not. At the time, nobody seemed to be angry with anybody and as I listened to the testimony, I wondered if I was really present at any of it.

It is not that the testimony was false; rather the tone was different on the witness stand than it was when men believed that they were friends.

After this experience, I shall often wonder whether what wives say about their husbands in divorce courts is not like what John Adams said about Roy Cohn, and vice versa, after they stopped being pals. Undoubtedly each said what the other said that he said, but in what tone? Perhaps it should have been put to music.

Bonn Needed A McCarthy

By NORMAN LINDHURST

West Germans who once derided American "circus" searches for subversion today were conceding that the "tortured" Dr. Otto John should have been labeled a security risk.

Shaken government officials who considered themselves expert anti-Communists were coming around to agreement that the West German "FBI" head who is now in Communist hands would probably not have held his job in the U.S. It is generally conceded that the political security chief drank too much and talked too much.

John associated with men known to be Communist agents, even after repeated warnings by Allied security officials. One of his closest friends described him as "tortured," and "an odd blend of sincerity and deception."

John's past record, as a participant in the 1944 bomb plot against Hitler and a valuable agent for the British in the war's closing days, was spotless and impressive. Made chief of West Germany's internal security office in 1950, he had tracked down Communist plotters so energetically there had been complaints in Parliament his method showed the gestapo touch.

Yet some of his best friends, by the strict American "risk" definitions, made him a bad security bet. Until John shocked West Germany July 20 by turning up on the other side of the Iron Curtain under circumstances still unsatisfactorily explained, the Bonn government had scoffed at the security-risk type of investigation of appointments to government posts. In this it received encouragement from certain American officials who agreed the U.S. was unnecessarily preoccupied with internal security questions.

Further, until recently Allied influence was so great on appointments to sensitive posts in the West German government that it was difficult to fix clear-cut responsibility. Typical is the John case, in which the Germans contend that John was actually a British choice, and the British deny it.

For some time even before John disappeared, there had been warnings that the Bonn Republic was headed for a security disaster. Because of its exposed position and peculiar political atmosphere, West Germany always has been a counterintelligence agent's nightmare.

The German press has charged on several occasions that Communist sympathizers holding key posts in American military government in the early days of the occupation had established German Communists in important administrative posts on a wholesale basis.

There had also been demands for the creation of an investigating committee on the model headed by Sen. McCarthy. But the Wisconsin Republican to most Germans had been director-in-chief of the American security-risk "circus." An incidental by-product of the John case is a rise here in the prestige of McCarthy, who had been considered a headline-hunting latecomer in the fight against the Communist peril.

Now, with a respected man unsuspected of Communist leanings broadcasting—either willingly or unwillingly—from East Germany, the West Germans are questioning their old security rule that a man either was a Communist or he wasn't. The Hamburg Bild Zeitung, with 1,000,000-daily circulation, best reflected the changed attitude:

"John—the man who watched us all. Why wasn't he watched? The man who was to guarantee our security—why wasn't he jailed?"

"The man against whom we were warned time and again—why wasn't he detected earlier? Are there still others like him in our government?"

An analysis of the remains of trees, killed by flowing lava from the volcanic explosion that created it, indicates that Crater Lake, in Oregon, is about 6500 years old.

Once Over

It's In The News

The new federal income tax law is so tough on the mind that it may be cheaper to pay the old tax than pay the legal staff required to interpret the new one. Joe Zilch says that if he figured it all out he wouldn't save money but would qualify for a medal.

Syngman Rhee, agree with him or not, is a top sample of the nonwobbling warrior who never loses sight of the goalposts. . . . What he needs for Korea is money and it must have seemed strange for him to ride up Broadway through all that gold and get nothing but ticker tape.

Marlon Brando has been cast in a singing role in the movie of "Guys and Dolls." This is versatility in 3-D. Marlon, now in a knockdown and dragout movie of waterfront crime, is doing a film as Napoleon and recently played Caesar. . . . It's gonna seem strange associating Napoleon with "I've Never Been in Love Before" and tying a Roman Emperor into the mood of "A Bushel and a Peck."

Victor Borge, resuming his one-man Broadway show after a month's vacation, tells of the fun he had on his Southport farm, but nary a word about the fact he spent a good part of it on his yacht, which guarantees him complete flight from farm cares. Victor cruises Long Island Sound in a superduper cruiser. . . . The natives took their kids to the waterfront, pointed out Victor's boat and said, "So you don't wanna take piano lessons!"

He uses a piano stool when studying charts. . . . And refuses to answer the question, "Do you read the compass or navigate by ear?"

The mayor of Istanbul, visiting America, says psychiatry might be a good approach to world peace. . . . But how are you gonna get this obstreperous planet on a couch? And has the U. N. enough sofas for the job?

An American, Dr. Joseph Cort, 29 and a few years out of college, has ignored his draft summons and chosen to live in Czechoslovakia. He may be a good physician but he is certainly a poor judge of health resorts. Our guess is that his answer to patients who say, "I get dizzy spells and lose my sense of direction," can be nothing but a firm "So do I."

Lifeguards at a Jersey beach have gone on strike. . . . Want shorter swims, longer rest periods between rescues and overtime for towing in women weighing over 150 pounds, perhaps. . . . Can you fancy a picket's banner reading "THIS BEACH UNFAIR?"

We were talking with a lifeguard the other day. . . . "We get a good sunburn, but there's no future in it," he said sadly. "We need a pension fund to take care of lifeguards when they can't swim fast any longer. Every lifeguard faces the day when no girl wants him any more even when up to her neck in rough water."

The day may come when the lifeguards of America will have their own J. Caesar Petrillo or Mike Quill working to see that they are not imposed on by summer vacationists, bathing beauties and weak swimmers. . . .

At present a lifeguard can be dispensed with at low tide, but Mike or Caesar would insist that a staff of guards be kept on duty whether anybody was bathing or not. (We can even imagine a rule on all bathing beaches requiring a standing crew of lifesavers even if people on the beach insisted they were just out for a tan and had no idea of going into the water.)

The fight continues against a huge sign advertising sugar opposite the United Nations. . . . We can think of other ads that might more properly fit the scene and be helpful to harassed world diplomats. . . . "Don't Be Half Safe," the theme of one big national advertiser, for instance, could stiffen the U.N. backbone, as could "fast Relief From Headaches," "Stops Irritations" and "End Your Troubles Cook With Gas." In moments of extreme perplexity a delegate might find cheer in gazing from the windows of U. N. and seeing "DUZ DOES EVERYTHING." It wouldn't be bad if the Soviet delegate, all set for a stack-blowing speech, could see a sign "COOL OFF WITH COLA."

128,150 Killed, Injured, Burned By First A-Bomb

U. S. Has Stockpile Of Thousands Of Atomic Weapons On Anniversary Of Bomb's 1st Use

WASHINGTON (AP)—On Aug. 6, 1945, at 9:15 a. m., an atomic fireball flashed over Hiroshima, Japan, and 128,150 people were killed, injured, maimed or burned.

One bomb . . . 78,150 dead or dying . . . 50,000 injured . . . a city virtually wiped out . . . and soon a nation forced to quick surrender by the appalling power of the atom.

But Hiroshima was only the popgun phase of the young Atomic Age. Nine years and 12 billion dollars later, the popgun of Hiroshima had become a weapon so dreadful that it could—and did—blow a mile-wide hole, 175 feet deep, in the coral floor of the Pacific Ocean. The crater was big enough to hold 140 buildings the size of the nation's Capitol.

This was done with a 1952-model hydrogen device which without doubt has undergone a good many refinements since then as a weapon of total destruction. The Hiroshima bomb had an explosive power equal to 20,000 tons of TNT. The hydrogen bomb TNT equivalent runs into the millions of tons.

On this ninth anniversary of Hiroshima, where does the United States stand in the world of the atom? Here is a brief run-down:

The most fearful development perhaps is that the United States has lost the monopoly on the atomic bomb which existed in August 1945. At that time this country alone had the weapon which could have brought military mastery of the world—had this nation been a land bent on conquest. Now Russia has mastered the scientific and industrial techniques of manufacturing atomic weapons.

Today it's a race between Russia and the United States for atomic supremacy. American experts say the United States has the lead—but a lead that is being narrowed by the Russians. Great Britain, too, has an advanced program and has exploded an atomic bomb.

The bombs which dropped on Hiroshima and three days later on Nagasaki perhaps were the only two completed atomic bombs in the American stockpile at that time. Now there are "baby" bombs, atomic artillery shells, guided missile warheads and the hydrogen giants such as the one exploded in the American stockpile at that time. Now there are "baby" bombs, atomic artillery shells, guided missile warheads and the hydrogen giants such as the one exploded in the American stockpile at that time.

Some military men believe these weapons have become so horrible in their destructive power that no nation will ever dare the gamble of atomic war. But the fear that it may happen still drives this country forward in the race for atomic supremacy.

Something like 90 per cent of the billions poured into atomic development is for purposes of war and defense. But even though the emphasis is on weapons of war, huge trides have been made in the direction of using the atom's fantastic energy for peace.

A by-product of the weapons program is that hundreds of scientists and engineers in the industrial world—working with the government in the atomic energy program—have gained important knowledge and experience in the peaceful use of nuclear energy.

And there is as much of a race for supremacy in the peaceful use of the atom—although far less dramatic—as there is in the weapons field. No industrial nation competing in the world markets can afford to be far outstripped in the use of this potentially cheap source of power.

One pound of uranium in a cube just one inch square has potentially usable energy equal to 2,600,000 pounds of coal. How to harness this energy to engines is a problem that is under steady attack by the best scientific and engineering minds around the world.

More than a score of nations have set up atomic energy programs—the great majority devoted solely to exploring the peaceful uses of nuclear energy. Twelve European nations have established a cooperative nuclear research organization with headquarters at Geneva, Switzerland.

The use of nuclear energy to produce electric power no longer is a dream. It has been done—and the problem now is to figure a way to make this atomic fuel produce power as cheaply or cheaper than coal.

The United States has an atomic submarine which it is believed will be able to travel thousands of miles with no need of refueling.

A land-based prototype of the atomic engine, according to a recent Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee report, has "already produced more than enough power to send an atomic submarine around the world, submerged, at full speed."

There are visions, too, that in the not-distant future ships and airplanes will be powered by nuclear energy and that atomic powerhouses will bring cheap electricity to industrial areas and to remote regions where fuel costs now are almost prohibitive.

The government expects to have an atomic power plant operating in two or three years—but no one can say yet how economical such a plant will be.

Industry and the medical world have found a multitude of uses for the atom. In fact, a sizable "atomic industry" has grown up to supply materials and equipment to those using radioactive material.

All these things have happened in the nine years since Hiroshima and it is only the beginning. Even with all their advances, scientists are aware that the nucleus of the atom still holds many secrets they have not plumbed.

The race will go to those who discover those secrets first—and then are able to change theory into the reality of a practical operation.

At this point, the experts say, the United States still is out in front.

Navy 'Pogo Stick' Makes 1st Takeoff

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—The Navy said today that one of its two radically new "pogo stick" fighters has made history's first free vertical takeoff and the other has proved able to hover motionless in free flight.

The first, Convair's XFV1 delta wing job, rose unassisted 20 feet from the ground at Moffett Naval Station last Sunday. On subsequent flights Monday and Tuesday it rose 150 feet then backed down to a landing on its tail.

The other, Lockheed's XFV1, has taken off horizontally then hovered nearly motionless in the sky in a nearly vertical position for several seconds on several occasions.

Test Pilot J. F. (Skeets) Coleman said of the Convair model: "It responded beautifully. It's more maneuverable and responds faster than any plane I've ever Down. There just isn't any limit to its future.

"We have to go slowly at first. We'll do a little more maneuvering—try a few new tricks—as we go along. But this is all new. Nobody ever tried vertical takeoffs and landings before in a high performance fighter."

Said Lockheed test pilot Herman (Fish) Salmon of the XFV1:

"With the proper engine, I'm confident I can hang it right on a cloud. It will sit still in the sky, back straight down, or move straight up."

Anniversary Celebration Set By Phillips Christian Church

The one hundred and twenty-fifth anniversary of Phillips Christian Church will be observed in two services Sunday. The public is invited to attend.

Rev. J. Edgar McDonald of Liberty, Mo., former minister, will be the guest speaker in both morning and afternoon services.

Following the morning worship service, which begins at 11, a basket lunch will be served at the church. The afternoon service will begin at 2:30.

Phillips Church, organized in 1829, has continued to hold services without interruption for the entire 125 years of its existence, according to reliable records. Members of the congregation were responsible for the organization of Salem First Christian Church in the year 1859.

The present church building, where an average of about 125 people meet regularly, was built in 1861, 93 years ago. Before that time, the congregation had worshipped in a log building which had been erected in 1831. For two years before they had any building, the members met in the home of the people of the community to conduct services.

On the available list of ministers who have served the congregation throughout the years are: Reverends Charles E. Van Voorhis, Harrison Jones, T. B. Teagarden, Sutton Hayden, William Baxter Newcomb, Horace Borton, Theobald Miller, R. G. White, Harmon Reeves, Casper Stanley, M. J. Grable, D. S. Beardsley, J. T.

Rev. J. Edgar McDonald

Ridgeley, J. Edgar McDonald, Howard F. Miller, Lawrence C. Ray, J. E. McConner, and the present minister, Rev. D. G. Stewart, now serving for the seventh year.

Serving the church in the capacity of leaders or overseers in the absence of ministers were: William Schooley, A. G. Hayden, Austin Pettit, Charles Kelley, Benjamin F. Kerky, John Lininger, James White, David Campbell and Samuel Netherfield. The congregation has started a building fund, and plans are being made to erect a new church edifice to replace the present 93-year old structure with modern facilities to accommodate the growing Bible-School and congregation.

Working on outdoor proficiency badges and first class rank requirements, the girls also planned their menus and camp program and fulfilled the duties of housekeeping, cooking and fire-building.

Work was divided among the girls by use of the "patrol system" under the supervision of the leader, Mrs. Carl Smith, and troop mothers, Mrs. Joe Stratton, Mrs. Robert Aikenhead, Mrs. George Schneider, Mrs. Rex Hundertmarck, and Mrs. Lawrence Darner. Mrs. Robert Snyder purchased the food supplies.

The women planned the dessert luncheon they will serve at the general meeting of the association Sept. 15. The next committee meeting will be Sept. 8 at the home of Mrs. A. Laten Carter on E. 6th St.

JC Net Tourney 1st Under Lights

Buchholtz, Delgado Move To Semi-Finals

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (U)—The first National Junior Chamber of Commerce Tennis Tournament today claimed the distinction of being the first national net test ever held under lights.

Play went on under the ares last night after rain for the second straight day twice interrupted the contests. Referee Harry Fogleman ordered the lamps turned on after showers halted play in the morning and again for two hours in the afternoon. He said the action was unprecedented in a national tournament.

Four seeded players moved into the semifinal round of the boys division before a crowd of more than 1,000 persons.

First-seeded Earl Buchholtz of St. Louis moved into today's semifinals by means of today's victories over Larry Caton, Pensacola, Fla., 7-5, 6-2, and Barry Edberg, Phoenix, Ariz., 6-2, 6-1.

Robert Delgado, third-seeded brilliant 15-year-old from Los Angeles, beat Bob Bowditch, Worcester, Mass., 6-0, 6-2, and Joe Gaston, Burlington, Iowa., 6-0, 6-2.

Delgado's play was little short of sensational, although he failed to win his state tournament and was eliminated from the national junior tennis tournament at Kalamazoo, Mich., last week in the semifinals.

Gerald Dubie, Hamtramck, Mich., second-seeded, gained the semifinals by trouncing Dave Barker, Branford, Conn., 6-2, 6-1, and Donald Ralph, Bethesda, Md., 10-8, 6-1.

Joe Cowley, Los Angeles, fifth-seeded, was the fourth player to make the semifinal grade, beating Marty Riessen, Hinsdale, Ill., 6-1, 6-1, and Ned Neely, Atlanta, Ga., 4-6, 6-1, 7-5.

Buchholtz opposes Delgado and Dubie meets Cowley in today's play.

24 Men Selected From Pioneer, Modern Eras

NEW YORK K&P—When the long-planned boxing museum is built, the Hall of Fame will have 24 plaques on the wall.

The voting, announced yesterday, was broken down into the "pioneer" era, taking in boxers who fought up to 1919 and a modern era, those who fought after 1919 and have been out of action two years.

The only modern era fighters who were able to muster the required 75 per cent of the votes of the committee of writers for the world's major news services were Jack Dempsey, Joe Louis and Henry Armstrong.

The Oldtimers Committee selected six former champions—heavyweights James J. Corbett, James J. Jeffries, Bob Fitzsimmons and Jack Johnson; lightweights Joe Gans and middleweight Stanley Ketchell.

The Pioneer group included John L. Sullivan, Jack McAuliffe, John C. Heenan, John Morrissey, Tom Hyer and Nonpareil Jack Dempsey (no relation to the Manassa Mauler), all Americans, along with England's James Figg, Jack Broughton, Daniel Mendoza, Tom Cribb, Gentleman John Jackson, Tom Sayers, Arthur Chambers, and Jem Mace, plus Australia's young Griffo.

Garcia To Seek His 13th Win

Tribe Drops Decision To Yanks 5-2 Thursday

CLEVELAND (U)—The Cleveland Indians, still in first place after a visit from those New York Yankees, open a four-game series tonight with the Philadelphia Athletics, against whom they have a comfortable 11-3 record.

Mike Garcia will start for the Tribe in quest of his 13th victory, and Marion Fricano (4-8) is slated to oppose him.

The Yankees used three home runs yesterday to snatch the rubber contest of a three-game series from the Indians, 5-2. Micky Mantle accounted for two of the New York homers and Joe Collins the third.

Larry Doby drove in the two homers, keeping him first in the league in that department, one ahead of Mantle.

With only five more games to play together on the regular season schedule, the Yanks are leading the Indians, nine games to eight. New York leads Cleveland by one run, 84 to 83, and has made only 10 errors to the Tribe's 19. But Cleveland has done more hitting, 165 to 153, including more homers, 21 to 12.

Mantle hit his first homer yesterday in the fourth inning with two out and the bases empty. The score remained at 1-0 until the sixth when Irv Noren doubled and Phil Rizzuto scored him with a single to right field.

Loser Early Wynn, who had held the Yankees to two hits the first seven innings, was relieved by Manager Al Lopez for a pinch hitter during a potential Cleveland rally in the seventh. In the eighth Collins clouted his ninth homer of the season off reliever Ray Narleski and Mantle, swinging at the next pitch, clouted his second homer of the game.

The final Yankee tally came in the same inning when Noren singled, moved to second when Gene Woodling walked, and scored on a single by Andy Carey.

Doby's homer in the eighth, scored Bob Avila, who had singled.

American League Pennant Race To Be Decided By Also-Rans; Few 'Crucial' Series Remain

By BEN PHLEGAR AP Sports Writer

The American League pennant chances of Cleveland, New York and Chicago now seem certain to be decided in games against the five also-rans rather than in hand-to-hand combat.

With less than a third of the season remaining, the schedule is running out of the so-called "crucial" Indians-Yankees-White Sox series. Cleveland has only five games left with the Yankees, who trail by a game and a half, and six with the White Sox who are five lengths back. The Yankees meet the White Sox just three more times.

But still to come for Cleveland are 13 meetings with Detroit. New York has 13 left with Philadelphia and Chicago faces Baltimore 11 more times.

Cleveland leads the league today because so far it has had better luck against the also-rans than either Chicago or New York. The Indians have whipped the "lowly" 57 times while losing only 14. Against the same outfits the White Sox have a 54-19 record and the Yankees 50-21.

None of the three title aspirants has any particular home-or-away advantage. Cleveland's remaining 50 games are cut right down the middle, 25 at home, 25 on the road. The Yankees have 24 in New York and 23 away. The White Sox have 25 in Chicago and 21 on the road.

If Cleveland continues to win at its current .692 pace the Yankees would have to win 34 of their remaining 47 games to tie. The White Sox would need 37 out of 46.

The Yankees gained a 9-8 season's advantage over Cleveland yesterday by winning the final game of a three-part series 5-2. The White Sox ran their current winning streak to seven games with a 5-1 triumph over Boston. Washington whipped Detroit 4-1 in the only other American League action.

The New York Giants held on to their five-game edge over Brooklyn although they lost 6-4 to Chicago. The Dodgers were walloped 13-4 by St. Louis.

Cincinnati at Pittsburgh and Milwaukee at Philadelphia were rained out. These were the first postponements in either league since July 7, although several games which had been started had to be called because of bad weather.

The White Sox managed only five hits off five Boston pitchers but they got them when they counted most. Phil Cavarretta's two-run double in the first was the big blow as Bob Keegan won his 14th game.

A double by Wayne Belard and a single by Al Kaline ruined Bob Porterfield's shutout bid with two out in the ninth at Detroit but the Washington righthander choked off

Nationally-Televised Event

Roger Bannister, John Landy Set For Big 'Dream Mile' Saturday

VANCOUVER, B. C. (U)—Little Murray Halberg of New Zealand ranked today with kings and conquerors after beating the great Roger Bannister and outperforming famous John Landy yesterday in the mile trials at the British Empire games.

Murray may bow tomorrow to the power that is latent in the legs of the mighty, when Bannister and Landy wage the nationally-televised duel the world has been awaiting since they cracked the 4-minute barrier in separate tests earlier in the year.

But the Empire Games Mile tomorrow will be men against men instead of men against the clock and the little Auckland school-teacher has proved himself a man. Murray went out and set the pace in the first heat of yesterday's trials—they called it the "Bannister heat"—and he was still out there in front when the timers clicked the clocks and read them at 4 minutes, 7.4 seconds.

Bannister, chopping along in his big loose style was third in the heat behind Canada's Rich Ferguson. And then in the "Landy heat" another New Zealander scored a surprise first place, Bill Baillie crossing the line in 4:11.4. Landy was almost arm in arm with Vic Milligan of Northern Ireland.

Even the beating of a world standard by sweet-running Marjorie Jackson-Nelson of Australia in the women's 220-yard dash couldn't dim the luster of the mile prelims. Marjorie went scooting around the single-turn course in 24 seconds flat, topping the 24.2 world mark credited to Fanny Blankers-Koen of The Netherlands.

Drive On To Stop Lesick At Sharon

The drive to stop Steve Lesick of Salem is on in full force at the Sharon Speedway where Promoter Jim Novak will offer another nine-event program of stock car racing Saturday night. Lesick has won seven feature events at Sharon and is far in front in the point standings.

His closest rival is Eddie Sliger but others are out to make a determined attempt to wrest the laurels from Lesick.

More than 30 cars and drivers will make up the field for the four heat events, Helmet Dash, two Australian Pursuits and the 25-lap final. Also on the card will be a 10-lap hard top race.

Time trials will begin at 7 p.m. with the first race set for 8:30. Beginning Tuesday, Sharon Speedway will start racing with a big Ladies' Night program. Ladies and children under 12 will be admitted free. Racing will be held every Tuesday for the rest of the summer.

Sunday, Aug. 22, the 100-lap championship will be run on the half-mile track.

the rally in time for his 11th triumph. Mickey Vernon homered off loser Steve Gromek in the fifth.

Stan Musial, who always has looked upon Ebbets Field as a real home away from home, drove in seven runs in the Cardinals' one-sided victory in Brooklyn. Musial hit two home runs, his 29th and 30th, each with two aboard, and drove in another with a sacrifice fly.

Stan's first blast drove Preacher Roe, an old St. Louis nemesis, to the showers. Rookie Brooks Lawrence won his ninth game since joining the club in late June and had a perfect day at bat with three singles.

Back-to-back home runs in the eighth inning by Ernie Banks and Eddie Miksis boomed the Cubs to victory over the Giants. Frank Baumholtz also hit into the seats for the Chicagoans.

Lefty Jim Davis, last of three Cub pitchers, stopped the Giants after they had put two on with none out in the eighth, then got Monte Irvin to rap into a game-ending double play in the ninth.

Woman Calls For Help
On Fire, Gets Plenty

MONTEREY PARK, Calif. (AP)—You got trouble here, you get help.

A fire started yesterday in the living room of Mrs. C. G. Grote's home. She phoned the fire department. Three trucks arrived promptly, followed by a police car, the city's public safety director, the city manager, the city budget officer and a fire department rescue unit.

The fire caused about $1,000 damage before it was extinguished.

AN ANCIENT TOMB unearths its treasures—Robert Taylor and Eleanor Parker come to the end of their search for the hidden tomb of the ancient Egyptian Pharaoh Ra-hotep in this scene from "Valley of the Kings." M-G-M adventure in color, showing at the State Theater starting Sunday. The picture, first major Hollywood production to have been filmed in Egypt, was made at the sites of two recent discoveries that have excited world attention, with its story of treasure seekers a parallel of the expeditions now making headlines.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

It has somehow escaped the American public that the International Socialist movement is a powerful one.

It's European leaders met here the other day and Berlin's busy men who lead governments, run parties and unions with scores of millions of members. Of course, the Socialist who has the greatest power is Britain's ex-prime minister, Clement Attlee.

These are gentle people. They are anti-Communist. Many even champion us against the Soviet world. They believe in democracy. But they are anti-capitalist. They would nationalize all industry in whatever land they controlled fully — slowly, certainly, but definitely! For, they are Marxists.

Now this raises a great moral, an intellectual problem! The Socialists International, many leaders of which are tortured veterans of Nazi and Soviet concentration camps, controls or influences sharply many powerful unions and national labor federations in England, France, Germany, the Lowlands, the Scandinavian countries and Italy.

IN EUROPE, virtually all unions have a political party attached and every Socialist or Labor party is tied up with a labor federation. Although the U.S. has spent scores of millions of dollars bolstering these unions and helping to reconstruct them after the war, strong anti-U.S. sentiment is developing inside the European labor and socialist movements.

This sentiment is coupled with a sharp increase in the desire to join the European unions in "unity" with the Soviet-controlled World Federation of Trade Unions — an outfit which Sen. Wiley has called the main conduct of Russian manpower and only used to sabotage the U.S. and capture governments such as Guatemala.

In Britain, for example, 14 big unions, including the electrical workers, the railwaymen and the miners, with a total membership of 2,653,000, have demanded that a joint conference be called between the Soviet's World Federation of Trade Unions and the International Communist International Confederation of Free Trade Unions.

THIS LATTER organization has for some time had the AFL and CIO as its mainstay. Many do not believe that either the AFL or the CIO would continue their support of the International Confederation if its European leaders decided to confer with the Soviet global labor network chiefs. There also are, of course, many European labor leaders who will fight such "international trade union unity."

However, there is undisputable labor sentiment for such a move — now that the Soviets are willing to dine with Western leaders — inside French, Belgian, Scandinavian

Princess On A Peak

By HAL BOYLE

MT. HARNEY, S.D. (AP)—A princess dwells atop this 7,240-foot peak, the highest mountain between the Rockies and the Alps.

She is Kathy Clark, 19, a forestry student at the Iowa State Agricultural College, and she is a working princess. She mans—all by herself—the highest of 16 fire lookouts in the million-and-a-half-acre Black Hills National Forest.

I jumped up to her solitary eyrie with her boss, Supervisor Jack C. Kern, but on the way Kathy, a pretty, dark-haired girl, passed us coming down in another jeep. After 10 days and nights of fire watching, it was her day off.

"Can't stop," she hollered. "I have to play in a softball game, and I'm late."

Kern grinned, and waved her on. "Six of her 16 lookout posts now are manned either by girls or by husband and wife teams," he said. "The girls make very dependable fire watchers."

"Kathy is one of our very best. She never gets excited, even during a lightning storm, when we may have six or seven fires going at once."

"She likes the work. This is her third summer. She lives in a little kitchenette beneath the tower, and does her own cooking and laundry."

"Kathy stays up here 8 to 10 days at a time. No she doesn't get lonely. The job isn't as monotonous as a lighthouse keeper's. The lookouts also act as ground observers for the Air Force. There is always something to do, and, of course, there are a lot of visitors in the summer."

The vista from Mt. Harney is one of the most beautiful in America. The eye can see parts of five states—South Dakota, North Dakota, Wyoming, Montana, and Nebraska.

$197,000 School Budget Approved

Vacancy Is Filled In Elementary Dept.

COLUMBIANA — The $197,000 budget set up by the board of education for the 1954-55 school year was approved at the hearing scheduled for Thursday evening in the office of the board in the High School building.

Last school year, maintenance projects made expenditures $210,000 and the budget this year is smaller than that figure because there are no such projects in sight for the coming school year. Installation of new equipment and refinishing of the toilets in the High School building last year were an expense item of some $8,000.

Monday night the board of education accepted the resignation of Mrs. Anna Mae Mollinger-Reese who submitted her resignation July 13. Mrs. Marian Sain of Salem was hired for replacement in the elementary department.

Mrs. Sain had five years of training at Mary Washington College, University of Virginia and Youngstown College, according to Supt. D. W. Bailey.

Plans were discussed for policing the football stadium in Firestone Park this fall at the August meeting of the Booster Club in the High School building Wednesday evening.

The club will probably be drafted by Firestone American Legion Post to help clean Main St. after the close of the 69th annual street night, Sept. 11.

The aim of the joint meeting of village council with the park board at the request of the board, set for 8 p.m. next Tuesday, is to make a study of the specifications in the deed transferring the park from the Firestone family to the village.

One of the considerations is to determine whether some minor changes in park regulations may be permissible.

Miss Ruth Henry, assisted by Miss Vivian Reemer, gave a delightful puppet show. The evening was concluded with a wiener roast, for which Mrs. Harry Heltsel, Mrs. Carl Souder, Mrs. Freeman Tyson, Mrs. Karl Theiss, Mrs. Clyde Biddison, Mrs. A. A. Anderson and Miss Mulch were co-hostesses.

Christmas Tree Growers Plan Tour

The Ohio Christmas Tree Growers' Council, a section of the Ohio Forestry Association, will have a two-day meeting and field trip, August 13 and 14, which is open to all who are interested in Christmas tree production.

Three plantations will be visited in Carroll and Columbiana counties the first day, and on Saturday the group will join with the Pennsylvania growers on their ninth annual summer tour, for an inspection of the W. W. Dambach farm near Ellwood City, Pennsylvania.

James W. Pendry, Lisbon, is chairman of the Ohio Council, and Friday he will be host to the visitors on his planting. The recent fertilization experiments of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station will be examined. At the Smith Forest Tree Nursery, Magnolia, seed beds will be seen from which a million pines a year are raised for sale to growers. The farm of Alf Akenhead also will be visited.

Dinner at the Wick Hotel, Lisbon, will be followed by a question-and-answer period covering problems of grading, pruning, marketing, new varieties and income tax records.

points ranging from highways to schools, and from liquor control to conservation.

Pointing to the current investigation of alleged shakedown of liquor permit holders by members of the state liquor control department, Rhodes pledged:

"I will rid the liquor department of bribery and shakedown scandals by replacing political hacks with honest and qualified enforcement agents."

The former mayor of Columbus promised to give "executive support to the newly created state board of education and strive to assure every boy and girl in the Ohio schools system the opportunity of obtaining an adequate education. School teachers must be guaranteed financial security."

On Highways Rhodes had this to say:

"I will immediately begin a program to bring our highways up to standards required by modern day traffic. This will be begun with an overhaul of the highway department that presently is top-heavy in administration."

Rhodes also nailed down these planks in his platform in a speech which was a highlight of "Jim Rhodes Day" in his native Jackson County.

"I will insist upon a balanced conservation program. Foremost among these will be action—instead of just promises—to assure adequate future water supplies."

"I will take steps to assure an adequate standard of living for Ohio's older citizens, seeking an increase for old age pensioners."

"I will throw out the 'political spoils system' in state purchasing and institute 'family budget' buying to effect economy in government."

Young Sees Win For High Farm Props

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Young (R-ND), reversing his prediction that a Senate group fighting for continued high farm price supports might suffer defeat, said today "I think we're going to win now—there have been some switches."

With six or eight votes apparently controlling the Senate fate of the Eisenhower administration's plan for flexible price supports, Sen. Holland (D-Fla.) questioned Young's claim and noted that even a Senate vote for rigid props would not be final. Holland, who supports the administration on the issue, said in a separate interview:

"They can't win even if they win a Senate test. The President would veto any extension of rigid supports and the whole issue is subject to a conference."

That was a reference to a compromise-seeking conference with the House, which has passed a modified version of the administration program, to be held after the Senate okays its bill.

Critics of the proposal for flexible price supports, for whom Young is unofficial spokesman, have done most of the talking so far, perhaps in hope of picking up a few votes before an actual test.

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.), floor manager for the administration bill and chairman of the agriculture committee, said his camp is ready for a vote.

Pending is Aiken's amendment to the Senate bill to authorize a system of flexible price supports on cotton, wheat, corn, rice and peanuts at from 80 to 90 per cent of parity. Parity is a computed price paid by law to give a farm product a fair relative purchasing power in terms of farm costs.

Aiken's committee rejected 8-7 the flexible supports in favor of a one-year extension of mandatory 90 per cent supports on the five basic crops. A sixth, tobacco, would continue at 90 per cent under both proposals.

brief pep talk to about 70 party bigwigs who came here to plan ways and means of building up quickly a not-so-hetty war chest. The former President is still weak from a recent gall bladder and appendix operation, and his old friends have been asked not to tire him out by shaking hands.

With the money talk, there was speculation over Mitchell's successor as national chairman. He has said he will step down after the November elections and return to his law practice in Chicago.

The name most prominently mentioned was that of James E. Finnegan, president of the Philadelphia City Council who has captained several successful campaigns in the Quaker City. Finnegan was an early pro-Stevenson man in the 1952 campaign.

Disale, Butler Possibilities Other names were Mike Di Salle, former mayor of Toledo and head of the Office of Price Stabilization in the Truman administration; and Paul Butler of Indianapolis, Democratic national committeeman; and Robert Butler of St. Paul, one-time ambassador to Australia and Cuba.

But while personalities and politics were being talked, they were sidetracked to the main business of getting together enough money to make a fighting campaign for control of the Senate and House.

Mitchell said the Democratic Senate and House Campaign Committees had asked for a total of $475,000 - $300,000 for the House races and $175,000 for the Senate contests.

"I don't think there's any doubt that we'll get the $475,000 we need," Mitchell told reporters. "These people have got blood in their eye."

FCC Relaxes Rules On UHF Television

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission FCC has relaxed two rules in a move, promptly questioned by one of its own members, to encourage ultra high frequency (UHF) television.

Miss Frieda B. Hennock said the action would render "the final mortal blow to UHF."

Miss Hennock, only woman member of the commission, has suggested shifting all television to VHF channels. Most television stations now operate on very high frequency (VHF), and ordinary home sets have been built for VHF reception.

The commission majority announced yesterday that as of Sept. 1:

1. UHF stations may be licensed even though they will not originate local programs.

2. Any station, UHF or VHF, may establish side UHF stations in adjoining communities to rebroadcast its programs over a wide area.

Only a majority vote will be needed for passage. One tavern now operates in the village.

The local option question includes the sale of whiskey and high-powered beer, while the beer question covers only 3.2 beer.
